Idea from C.E. (H.R.S.) Mat. May be the estimate amounting to Rs 8000/- was sanctioned some time ago for the growing of fruit trees under K. Sagar. No steps have so far been taken by the Director of Horticulture to prepare the land etc. ahead
This dept. under its present is becoming more & more unofficial & useless every day
I don't think it is possible to let Mr. Mayo stick in this manner. Mr K. has asked to show his results or clear out
I am not very hopeful of Jawaraya & this Sh will have to go the same way unless he can show good work & produce satisfactory results.
I feel it is time to let them know other-wise early that Mr. Mayo has forfeited them.

Ec. 5-4-29 (1-2).

With a view to carry on experimental work to find out different varieties of fruits that may be grown under conditions of soils prevailing in the Irwin Canal area", Mr. Krumbiegel proposed in his letter No 2051 dated 13th March 1929 to the Chief Engineer, K.R.S. that an area of about 16 acres may be reserved for the purpose. Govt. directed that this subject might be considered by the K.R.S Committee.

2 The K.R.S. Committee resolved at their meeting held on 19th March 1929 that water might be allowed for orchard crops by flow and pumping

3 The Director thereupon submitted an estimate for Rs. 15,500/- for laying out an orchard on a 16 acre plot; but as the Financial Secy. was of the opinion that the experi-

Dear Mr. Krumbiegel,

I am directed to inform you about the mischievous condition in which the Lal Bagh is kept. The whole ground of the place is dirty, untidy and neglected. It is understood that the Lal Bagh is in the charge of Mr. Jawaraja Iyer, in direct charge of the Lal Bag. If that be so, I am to ask you to call for the explanation of Mr. Jawaraja Iyer and tell him that unless he must exert himself and improve the condition of the Lal Bag. I am to add that though the Cubbon Park is not so bad as the Lal Bag, still it calls for much improvement grass growing on the road side, ill kept foot paths, pools of water, unshapely flower beds & paths — these are some of the mischiefs which are noticed that are to be attended to by the Gardener.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No. D.2211/G.G.19-30-1 dated 22nd August 1930 regarding the layout of a fruit orchard at -- Krishnaraja Sagara, I have the honour to state that I am somewhat puzzled at the grounds underlying the necessity for the letter; but I was told by the Dewan that the Chief Engineer reported that nothing has been done. As a matter of fact, long before sanction was obtained I ordered all the fruit trees required for the whole area - and they have already arrived from Australia and those from Nilgiris are on the road. As soon as sanction was communicated, the work of clearing the site ~~and~~ building rubbish, ~~stc~~. rocks and mounds of earth etc. was immediately started and actual earth work and terracing was well ahead when I inspected the works last month. The only item of the work not started then was the fence which I had requested the Executive Engineer, K.R.S. to carry out. He has however to obtain sanction for the detail estimates from the Chief Engineer and that had only then been obtained. You will see therefore that the whole work ~~is~~ has not only been started in anticipation of sanction, but also that the earth-work has far advanced as it is in our departmental charge and is in full progress, and the only item not started immediately was that under the Chief Engineer's staff itself.

As we have carried on all the works at Krishnaraja Sagara in close close cooperation with the Engineering staff, I was most unpleasantly surprised when the Dewar informed me of the statement made by the Chief Engineer and I have fully explained to him the actual position. I trust that the above will clear the case.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

your most obedient servant,

Director of Horticulture

Report on Orchard Cultivation Levelopment fortnight ending 14th March 1931.

During this fortnight the village of Kadathenal which has an area of about 300 acres coming under the Orchard cultivation area was visited. The Patel of the village and a number of land-owners were met and the question of orchard cultivation discussed with them. The residents of this village own some gardens in the neighbouring area in which they grow cocoanuts, areca and mango trees. They represent that the gardens are no doubt prosperous, but the monkeys are so numerous in the locality, that in spite of their vigilance, the gardens do not even pay the assessment on them. In fact, the monkeys have become a pest and the people put this forward as one of the items of discouragement in taking to garden cultivation. In general with the neighbouring villages, these people also lay stress on the difficulty of tiding over the period of transition when they change over from dry cultivation to garden cultivation. Most of the are of opinion that when they take to gardening, they will not be able to attend to their dry lands and grow the food-stuff they are now growing for their daily consumption, as gardening requires very intensive labour and a lot of watering.

It was proposed on the ryots that most of the difficulties raised were rather exaggerated and that if at least, some of the land-owners, who were well-to-do would come forward, and try to convert a portion at least of their lands into garden lands, they would receive as much help as possible from the authorities. They were also assured that along with the Orchard Crops, they could grow any of the two seasonal or vegetable crops

crops which would lend themselves to ten-day waterings, and which would yield a quick return.

The Patel of the village has promised to confer with the ryots of the village in the course of the fortnight, and induce some of them to come forward to cultivate a portion of the available land in the first instance, so that a sluice may be opened for the area. In the course of the next visit, if the ryots have come to a decision, arrangements will be made to take out a mutchalika, from those that are willing to begin cultivation.

Development of irrigation under the ----- between the Krishnarajasagara Dam and the Hulikere Tunnel.

Read:-

(1) G.O. No.C.93-120/Irri.S.570-597 dated the 8th June 1931, laying down the policy of irrigation to be adopted and other matters connected with the development of irrigation under the Irwin Canal.

Order No. S3-80 /K.R.S.174-201 Dated, Bangalore, the 10th July 1951.

It was the intention of Government to develop Orchard cultivation in the irrigable lands under the Irwin Canal between the Krishnarajasagara Dam and the Hulikere ridge. As it is found that owing probably to the heavy first cost involved in the cultivation of Orchard crops and the rather long time required to realise any material yield from such crops, the ryots do not seem to be desirous of cultivating such crops exclusively. Government, therefore, direct that the system of irrigation, contributions, and water rates, etc., as sanctioned in the Government Order read above, may be adopted in this locality also. It however, hoped that the ryots concerned will take advantage of the facilities available for raising Orchard crops in the locality, as far as possible.

Government direct that the Departments concerned should take the necessary steps for starting irrigation in this locality as indicated in G.O. No.C.93-120/Irri.570-597 dated the 8th June 1951.

Dear Sir,

ORCHARD CULTIVATION UNDER THE IRWIN CANAL.

With reference to your letter No.E2990/gg19-30-R dated 27th January 1932 regarding the above, I am to state that irrigation has not yet started under the Irwin Canal. The ryots are not showing any desire to take up Orchard cultivation - owing to the first costs involved and the long period required to secure any yield. Experimental demonstrations and propaganda are necessary to persuade them to adopt this form of cultivation. An experimental Orchard has been started at the Krishnarajasagara, North Bank, under the supervision of the Horticultural Department, for purposes of demonstration. Even after irrigation starts, it is not likely that the ryots will take to Orchard cultivation for a few years until the lands are prepared and paddy crop grown for one or two seasons. The Channel Staff will be asked to persuade the ryots to take to Orchard crops and the progress will be watched.

ORDER NO. 1365-89. 4634-58 /KSS. DATED, BANGALORE, THE 23 FEBRUARY 1932.

It has been represented that the existing orders regarding the conditions of supply of water to the lands commanded by the Irwin Canal require modifications in some respects. The Chairman of the Krishnarajasagara Working Committee has urged that the condition relating to the levy of contribution might be relaxed to some extent, for ensuring the rapid development of the area. Deputations of ryots owning lands in the area also waited on the Dewan, on the 25th October 1931 and 4th January 1932 and explained their difficulties.

2. The more important of the points urged for reconsideration are the following:-

(1) System of cultivation;
(2) Amount of contribution and period of its payment; and
(3) Interest on unpaid contributions.

3. Government have given careful consideration to these representations and they have also had the question of the sanctioned system of cultivation re-examined by the Krishnarajasagara Working Committee with the assistance of four co-opted non-official members representing the ryots of the different areas coming under the Canal. The main objects of the rotational arrangement of cultivation proposed to be adopted under this Canal are to use the available water to the best advantage, to secure the greatest benefit to the greatest number of people, and to prevent the areas from becoming water-logged and unhealthy. In view of these considerations, the rotational system is the best and the Krishnarajasagara Working Committee is of the decided opinion that this system is quite suitable and workable and that it presents no great practical difficulties. No modification of this system can, therefore, be made. Should there, however, be be any minor difficulties or inconveniences calling for relief in the initial stage of adoption of this arrangement, the required remedy could be afforded on a consideration of the circumstances of each individual case. Most cases of this nature would arise only in the first two or three years and Government will be glad to have them examined by a Committee on which the ryots concerned are represented. For this purpose, therefore, Government are pleased to appoint a Committee of which the Deputy Commissioner of Mysore will be the Chairman and the Executive Engineer, Irwin Canal Division, Mandya, the Agricultural Chemist, and four persons nominated by Government to represent ryots, the Members.

4. As regards the contributions payable, the limits fixed in the Government Order dated 8th June 1931 cannot be held to be too high considering the assured and perennial nature of supply from the Canal, the substantial enhancement in the capital value of the lands resulting from their conversion into wet, and, the fact that as high and even higher rates are paid for lands depending on precarious supplies from rain-fed tanks. The only concessions in regard to contributions which Government consider, are called for, are the lightening of the instalments in the first few years and some extension of the total period for the payment of the whole amount. Government are accordingly pleased to direct that the contributions fixed, be paid in twelve years instead of in ten, that the amount of a full instalment be taken as one-tenth of the contribution and that the payments in the first four years be fractions of a full instalment, namely, one-fourth, one-half, one-half, and three-fourths respectively, and that the balance be paid in equal annual instalments in the remaining eight years.

5. The third important representation is about the interest on contributions required to be paid under the order of 8th June 1931. Taking all circumstances into consideration, Government have decided to waive the levy of interest altogether. The instalments of contribution as directed in paragraph 4 supra should be paid punctually, but when they are not so paid, interest will be charged on overdue instalments in accordance with the usual practice.

6. In the orders passed above, Government have allowed whatever concession is possible in respect of the three chief representations referred to in paragraph 2 supra. It is unnecessary to mention specifically the other matters about which representations have been made. They have all been carefully considered, but Government do not see any reason to modify the orders already passed regarding them.

7. The form of the [illegible] will be revised in accordance with this order and prompt action taken by all officers concerned for

for obtaining mutchalikas and for supplying water to lands.
